

Strange Voices from the Heartland

An essay competition on religion and culture
in Central and Eastern Europe

The Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas in co-operation with the Charles University, the Sapientia College of Theology and the Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University organises an essay competition for the countries of Central and Eastern Europe. Anyone may apply with an essay dealing with religion in the CEE region.

Essays are to be submitted in English.
Their length must be between 5,000 and 7,000 words.

Three prizes will be awarded with the following amounts:

I	II	III
2,500 euros	2,000 euros	1,500 euros

Submission deadline:
July 18th 2021

More information can be found at www.strangevoices.org